Notes

“Small things,” “Psalm,” and “Film Noir,” were published in Metropolis, Toronto: Mansfield Press, 2005, Copyright © Rishma Dunlop.

“Psalm,” was written in response to the abduction and murder of Holly Jones, May 12, 2003, in Toronto.

“Dream”: Victor Jara (1932-1973) was a Chilean theatre director, poet, singer-songwriter and political activist during the regime of Salvador Allende. Shortly after the Chilean coup of September 11, 1973, he was arrested and tortured; the bones in his hands and wrists were broken. Defiantly, he sang part of “Venceremos” (We Will Win). He was machine-gunned to death with forty-four bullets.
